Religious Notice.
Rev. R. C. Brant, Pastor of the Baptist Church at Lawrence, will preach in Emporia, next Sabbath, (to-morrow) at half-past 1 o'clock P. M.

To the Electors of the Fourteenth District.
You are hereby notified to meet in Convention at Emporia, on Saturday the 28th of November inst. at 2 o'clock P. M., to appoint five Delegates to represent the Fourteenth District in a Delegate Convention to be held at Lawrence on the 10th of December next.

By order of District Committee.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Messrs. Eskridge and Storrs have received a quantity of "relief clothing" which they are now ready to distribute to the destitute in this neighborhood.

We are under obligations to the Agent of the United States Express Company, for late copies of the St. Louis Republican, Cincinnati daily Commercial and daily Enquirer.

A slight snow fell in this vicinity on Tuesday last. It soon vanished, however, before the warm sun of succeeding days.

Improvement.
Our citizens have determined not to let the long winter evenings now coming on, pass entirely unimproved, and have organized a Debating Club, which, if the plan is carried out, will be productive of much good. At a meeting on Wednesday evening last, a Constitution was reported and adopted, officers elected under it, and means taken to secure a permanent and comfortable room for the winter. We sincerely hope that nothing will interfere to prevent the entire success of this much-needed and praiseworthy movement.

W. F. M. Army, of Hyatt, left for Washington City on Monday the 9th inst. He took with him a protest signed by over 200 citizens of Anderson Co. against the action of the Bogus Constitutional Convention; and numerous petitions and memorials to Congress, praying for the establishment of various mail routes in Kansas.

"The Republic."
The publication of a Republican paper at Washington City, bearing the above title, has just been commenced. George M. Weston, well known as the author of "The Progress of Slavery in the United States" is principal editor, assisted by Daniel R. Goodloe, of North Carolina. The want of an able and efficient organ at the National Capital, has been long felt by the Republican party; and "The Republic" is intended to supply that want. From the copy now before us we judge favorably of "The Republic," and feel safe in recommending it to those of our readers who desire to subscribe for a reliable Anti-Slavery paper published at the seat of Government. The terms are—Weekly, $2 per annum; Semi-weekly, $3. Address G. M. Weston, Washington, D. C.

The Atlantic Monthly.
PHILLIPS, SAMSON & COMPANY, have issued the first number of their new periodical bearing the above title. It is gotten up in the best style of the "art preservative of arts," and boasts, as contributors to its pages, Bryant, Longfellow, Hawthorne, Curtis, Whittier, Holmes, Emerson, Mrs. Stowe, and a "host" of others, whose names and writings are familiar as "household words" to the American public. Of the positive merits of this number of the "Monthly" we are not prepared to speak, from the cursory examination which we have given it. It does not affect neutrality, but will deal frankly with persons and with parties, endeavoring always to keep in view that moral element which transcends all persons and parties, and which alone makes the basis of a true and lasting national prosperity. It will not rank itself with any sect of anties, but with that body of men which is in favor of Freedom, National Progress and Honor, whether public or private." Sold by all Booksellers and Periodical Agents.—Terms—$3 per annum.

The publication of the Prairie City Freeman's Champion has been suspended for the present. Mr. Prouty, its proprietor, was chosen Recorder of Douglas county at the late election.

Rule or Ruin.
The Richmond South, in repelling the charge that Virginia is becoming unfriendly to slavery, thus boasts of the determination to resist by force the inauguration of a President elected by the opposition:

"Never was the popular sentiment of Virginia so unanimous and so thorough in support of slavery. Did the Delta not see it in the struggle of 1856, when Virginia led the van, not of Free-Soilism, but of Secession, and when the people of the West stood shoulder to shoulder with the people of the East in the resolution to resist Fremont's election to the last extremity?"

The Bogus Constitution.

We present below the Schedule and the "Slavery clause" of the Bogus Constitution. We ask of our readers an attentive perusal of them.

SCHEDULE.
SECTION 1. That no inconvenience may arise by reason of a change from a Territorial to a permanent State government, it is declared that all rights, actions, prosecutions, judgments, claims, and contracts, as well of individuals as of bodies corporate, except the bank charter passed by the last Territorial Legislature, which is hereby declared null and void, shall continue as if no such change had taken place, and all processes which may have issued under the authority of the Territory of Kansas, shall be as valid as if issued in the name of the State of Kansas.

Sec. 2. All laws now of force in the Territory of Kansas, which are not repugnant to this constitution, shall continue and be of force until altered, amended or repealed, by a Legislature assembled by the provisions of this constitution.

Sec. 3. All fines, penalties, all forfeitures, accruing to the Territory of Kansas, shall continue to the use of the State of Kansas.

Sec. 4. All recognizances heretofore taken shall pass to, and be prosecuted in the name of the State of Kansas; and all bonds executed to the Governor of the Territory, or to any other officer or court, in his or their official capacity, shall pass to the Governor of the State authority, and his successors in office, and for the use therein expressed, and may be sued for and recovered accordingly; and all the estates or property, real, personal or mixed, and all judgments, bonds, specialties, cases in action, and claims or debts of whatsoever description, of the Territory of Kansas, shall continue to, and rest in the State of Kansas, and be sued for and recovered in the same manner, and to the same extent as the same could have been by the Territory of Kansas.

Sec. 5. All criminal prosecutions, and penal actions, which may have arisen before the change from a Territorial to a State government, and which shall then be pending, shall be prosecuted to judgment in the name of the State; all actions at law, and suits in equity, which may be pending in the courts of the Territory of Kansas, at the time of the change from a Territorial to a State government, may be continued and transferred to any court of the State which shall have jurisdiction of the subject matter thereof.

Sec. 6. All officers, civil and military, holding their offices under the authority of the United States, or the Territory of Kansas, shall continue to hold and exercise their respective offices until they shall be superseded by the authority of the State.

Sec. 7. All county and township officers shall continue to hold their respective offices, unless removed by a law of the Legislature provided for by this Constitution.

Sec. 8. This Constitution shall be submitted to the Congress of the United States at its next ensuing session, and as soon as official information has been received that it is approved by the same, by the admission of the State of Kansas as one of the Sovereign States of the United States, the President of this Convention shall issue his proclamation, to convene the State Legislature at the seat of Government, within thirty days after its publication. Should any vacancy occur by death, resignation or otherwise, in the Legislature or other office, he shall order an election to fill such vacancy: Provided, however, in case of refusal, absence or disability of the President of this Convention to discharge the duties herein imposed on him, the President pro tem. of this Convention shall perform said duties, and in case of absence, refusal, or disability of the President pro tem., a committee consisting of five members of this Convention or a majority of them shall discharge the duties required of the President of this Convention.

Before this Constitution is submitted, the President of this Convention, or in his absence, by reason of his death, resignation or otherwise, the President pro tem. shall by proclamation declare, that on the 21st day of December, 1857, at the different election precincts now established by law in the Territory of Kansas, an election shall be held, over which shall preside three judges, to be appointed by Commissioners, three of whom shall be appointed for each county by the President of this Convention, or in his absence, by reason of death, resignation or otherwise, the President pro tem., at which election the constitution framed by this Convention shall be submitted to all the male citizens of the Territory of Kansas, over the age of twenty-one years, for ratification or rejection, in the following manner and form. The voting shall be by ballot. The judges of said election shall cause to be kept two poll books by—clerks, by them appointed; the ballots cast at said election shall be endorsed:—Constitution with Slavery, or Constitution without Slavery.

One of said poll books shall be deposited with the President of this Convention, or in his absence, by reason of his death, resignation or otherwise, the President pro tem., and the other to be retained by the judges of election, and kept open for inspection:—The President of the Convention, or in his absence, by reason of his death, resignation or otherwise, the President pro tem., with two or more members of this Convention, shall examine said poll books, and if it shall appear upon said examination that a majority of the votes cast at said election be in favor of the "Constitution with Slavery," he shall immediately have transmitted the constitution so ratified to the Congress of the United States for admission into the Union as a sovereign State, under said constitution. But if, upon said examination of said poll books, it shall appear that a majority of the votes cast at said election be in favor of the "Constitution without Slavery," then the article providing for slavery shall be stricken from this constitution by the President of this Convention, or in his absence, by reason of death, resignation or otherwise, by the President pro tem., and slavery shall no longer exist in the State of Kansas (except that the right of property in slaves now in this Territory shall in no manner be interfered with), and he shall immediately have transmitted the constitution so ratified to the Congress of the United States for admission into the Union as a sovereign State, under the said constitution.

Sec. 9. Every white male inhabitant, who is a citizen of the United States, at the time of the first election, and is above the age of twenty-one years, shall be deemed an elector at the first election to be held in this State; and any elector qualified as aforesaid, shall be entitled to be elected to any office or place under this State Constitution at such election; anything in this Constitution to the contrary notwithstanding.

Sec. 10. The President of this Convention shall issue writs of election to three householders in the several Counties, requiring them to cause an election to be held for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Representative to Congress of the United States, members of the State Legislature, and all other officers, elective under this Constitution, in their respective Counties, districts and places of election; on the first Monday and day following of January, in the year eighteen hundred and fifty-eight, which election shall in all other respects be conducted in the manner prescribed by the now existing law in the Territory of Kansas; and all returns of said elections shall be made to the President of this Convention, who is hereby authorized to receive, examine, and count the votes, and to declare who is elected; and all officers thus duly elected shall enter upon and continue in the discharge of the duties of their respective offices, until their successors are elected and qualified.

Sec. 11. Until the Legislature, elected in accordance with the provisions of this constitution, shall otherwise direct, the salary of the Governor shall be $3,000 per annum; and the salary of the Lieutenant Governor shall be double the pay of a State Senator; and the pay of members of the Legislature shall be—until otherwise provided by the first Legislature, which shall fix the salaries of all officers other than those elected by the people at the first election.

Sec. 12. This constitution shall take effect and be in force from and after its ratification by the people, as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 13. Oaths of office may be administered by any Judge, Justice of the Peace, or clerk of any court of record of the Territory or State of Kansas, until the Legislature of the State may otherwise direct.

Sec. 14. That after the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, whenever the Legislature shall think it necessary to amend, alter and change this Constitution, they shall recommend to the electors, at the next general election, two-thirds of the members of each House concurring, to vote for or against calling a Convention; and if it appear that a majority of all the citizens of the State have voted for a Convention, the Legislature shall, at its next regular session, call a Convention, to consist of as many members as there may be in the House of Representatives at the time, to be chosen in the same manner, at the same places, and by the same electors that chose the Representatives; said delegates so elected shall meet within three months after said election, for the purpose of revising, amending or changing the Constitution. But no alteration shall be made to affect the right of property in the ownership of slaves.

SLAVERY CLAUSE.
PREAMBLE.—The right of property is before and higher than any constitutional sanction, and the right of the owner of a slave to such slave, and its increase, is the same, and as inviolable as the right of the owner of any property whatever.

SECTION 1. The Legislature shall have no power to pass laws for the emancipation of slaves without the consent of their owners, or without paying their owners previous to their emancipation, a full equivalent in money for the slaves so emancipated. They shall have no power to prevent emigrants to the State from bringing with them such persons as are deemed slaves by the laws of any one of the United States or Territories, so long as any person of the same age or description shall be continued in Slavery by the laws of this State: Provided that such person or slave be bona fide property of such emigrant; and provided also that laws may be passed to prohibit the introduction into this State of slaves who have committed high crimes in other States or Territories. They shall have power to pass laws to permit the owners of slaves to emancipate them, saving the rights of creditors, and preventing them from becoming a public charge. They shall have power to oblige the owners of slaves to treat them with humanity, to provide for them necessary food and clothing, to abstain from all injuries to them extending to life or limb; and in case of their neglect or refusal to comply with the direction of such laws, to have such slave or slaves sold for the benefit of the owner or owners.

Sec. 2. In the prosecution of slaves for crimes of higher grade than petit larceny, the Legislature shall have no power to deprive them of an impartial trial by a petit jury.

Sec. 3. Any person who shall maliciously dismember or deprive a slave of life, shall suffer such punishment as would be inflicted in case the like offence had been committed on a free white person, and on the like proof, except in case of insurrection of such slave.

From the St. Louis Republican.
Slaves Kidnapped in Missouri.
GEORGETOWN, Petis Co., Mo., October 23, 1857.

Ma. Editor: This quiet little village is somewhat excited this morning in consequence of the announcement made, that on last night three of Gen. George R. Smith's negroes, and a youth, who called himself Henry Ward Spencer, left, taking with them five of the General's horses. Spencer came to Gen. Smith's several weeks ago, saying he came from the East, on his way to Kansas; and has been enjoying the General's hospitality, until last night.

Said Spencer is about eighteen years of age, small, slender stature (weighing about one hundred pounds), of delicate appearance, light hair, an effeminate voice, and delicate appearance generally. He says that his father lives in Pennsylvania, and his manners and conversation prove him to be a Yankee, raised in some of the Eastern cities. He appears to have been decently raised, and wears a suit of black (I believe cloth) and a cap.

One of the slaves is a man named Henry, of ordinary size, dark complexion, and very smart; the other two are young bright mulatto women. It is thought that they have gone toward Kansas Territory, or made for Iowa. Gen. Smith is now absent at a meeting of the directors of the Pacific Railroad at St. Louis. Several friends have gone in pursuit of the fugitives, and it is to be hoped the young Yankee knave will be soon overtaken.

A CORRECTION.—It is stated that one of the best dry goods jobbing houses in Boston gave an order on Thursday, by telegraph, for the shipment of 17,000 bushels of wheat to that market, received at Chicago from their customers, in lieu of money.

The Chase and Capture of an American Slave.

The London Illustrated News of September 19th contains the following account of the capture of schooner Abbott Devereux, an American vessel which for several years traded between Savannah and Cuba:

H. M. S. TRAINER, LAGOOS, West Coast of Africa, Aug. 6, 1857.
Having seen in one of your recent numbers an engraving, and likewise a short account of the capture of a slave, I thought, perhaps, this might be equally acceptable. Early on Sunday morning last, being off Whydah, and about sixty miles at sea, the masthead man reported a strange sail; sail was immediately made on our ship, but to no purpose, as she made three feet to our two. Steam was now got up, and the chase began in earnest. After about two hours' hard chase we had gained her very considerably. Cables, boats, hampers, in fact everything they could throw overboard to lighten their vessel they did. We now fired on Long Tom in order to bring her to, but to no purpose. The chase now, you may suppose, was very exciting; shot after shot was fired, but she kept bravely on, although our shot (33-pounds) nearly fell on her deck more than once. She tried every means to escape, and kept on to the very last, hoping, no doubt, that our machinery might give out. She hove to about four o'clock.

A loud hurrah proclaimed the event. I took a small sketch (which I have enclosed: it is a faithful one) immediately after the capture. She proved to be the Abbott Devereux, a vessel of 120 tons, with 255 slaves, and a mixed crew, consisting of Spaniards, Americans, Portuguese and Brazilians, twenty-seven in all. As soon as we boarded her the hatches were opened, and such a scene never was witnessed. The slaves had been banded down all day during our nine hours' chase; they were all sea sick, and the stench and filth are indescribable; perhaps you can imagine 235 human beings shut up in a place 80 feet by 20 feet, and only 3 feet 6 inches high, just room enough to clear the top of their heads when they are in a sitting position. During the chase we ran a distance of eighty-five miles.

Important from Utah.
Capt. Van Vleet, Assistant Quarter Master U. S. Army, arrived in this city last evening, direct from the Territory of Utah, having left Great Salt Lake City on the 14th ult.

We understand that the Mormons are determined not to allow the United States troops to enter Salt Lake valley, and will use force to prevent them, if necessary. They look upon the present movement of the Government as only the renewal of the persecutions which they complain of having endured in this State and Illinois, and are determined to resist it at the outset. Capt. Van Vleet met the troops the 22d of September on the Sweet Water, some two hundred and thirty miles beyond Fort Laramie. They were all well, and in good spirits. Some of the supply trains were at Harris Fork, one hundred and forty-three miles this side of the valley, while others were far behind, and it is very doubtful if they can enter the Salt Lake valley this season.

Col. Johnson, with his escort, was met on the 1st of October, ninety miles this side of Fort Laramie, and determined to enter the valley of Salt Lake this fall. Gov. Cumming and Secretary Hartselt were met on the 8th of this month ninety miles beyond Fort Kearney, all well. A heavy snow fell at Fort Bridger on the 15th of September.

We hear that Capt. Van Vleet passed a week in Great Salt Lake City. He was treated with much consideration, and invited to partake of the hospitalities of the leading men of the city. But on all occasions, and from every quarter, he heard only one expression, and that was, that they never would permit United States troops, or the officers appointed by the United States Government, to get a foothold in their dominions. In all their public declarations, and in their private conversations, this sentiment is boldly avowed: they will never suffer the troops to enter the city, and if they do, it will be after the town has been committed to the flames, the territory around it laid waste, and all the inhabitants have fled to the mountains. Their fanaticism knows no bounds; they believe Brigham Young to be the appointed agent of the Lord, and whatever he commands them to do, they will perform with alacrity. They say that they have provisions sufficient to last them for three or four years, and that, persecuted as they have been and are by the Americans, they will resist to the last extremity.

These statements being true, as they undoubtedly are, the Government will have to make levies of new men, and to dispatch heavy reinforcements to the army in Utah next spring.
